2007 Congressional Voting Record Inside

MIXED REVIEW FOR THE 110TH CONGRESS

November 2006 was a time of sweeping change. Yet, despite voters ushering in a Democratic majority -- largely because of Republican recalcitrance -- little has been accomplished since the first 100 hours of the 110th Congress. In this 2007 ADA Voting Record, ADA illustrates the problems liberals face in the current political climate.

“We were hoping to roll back 12 years of Republican misrule and advance an agenda that would finally address the problems of working families,” said Amy Isaacs, ADA National Director. “We quickly discovered that a favorable majority is not a functioning majority.”

Riding a wave of support and a clear mandate from the electorate, newly minted House Speaker Nancy Pelosi (D-CA) and Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid (D-NV) mutually were able to pass legislation supported widely by liberals and ADA. Included in the first 100 hours agenda was an ethics reform package and the first increase to the federal minimum wage in more than a decade. “We’d been blocked by Republicans at every turn for so long, it was nothing short of elation to finally have a Congress that would listen to us,” said Jane O’Grady, Director of ADA’s Campaign for a Fair Minimum Wage. O’Grady and a coalition of minimum wage advocates worked closely with Senator Edward Kennedy (D-MA) on the bill which, by 2009, will put $4400 more a year in the pockets of 13 million hard working Americans.

Despite these early victories, the momentum did not last. Slim majorities in both chambers and the Presidential veto looming over every bill stymied progress. This is most evident in Congress’ inability to do anything to end the war in Iraq. Instead of redeploying troops out of harm’s way, a campaign promise that delivered a victory to many Democrats, the President, with Congressional approval, escalated the war in an effort to calm sectarian violence and give Iraqi leaders more time to bring about political reconciliation. In a letter to Speaker Pelosi outlining ADA’s dissatisfaction with the Democrats’ willingness to compromise on war strategy, Amy Isaacs wrote, “Reaching a compromise that sacrifices progress only to have conservatives block the legislation anyway, not only leaves (continued on page 2)

WORKING FAMILIES WINNING IN IA, PA, WI AND NC by Don Kusler

2008 is a special opportunity for liberals. The potential that new leadership in the White House and functioning liberal majorities in both chambers of Congress hold, could mean historic progress in 2009 and for years to come.

Even so, we cannot sit back and expect victory to drop into our laps. We must work hard to make sure that the opportunity becomes a reality. As such, ADA has not been resting on our 2006 success.

In 2007, our Working Families Win (WFW) project kept the fires burning around the country. WFW organizers worked in dozens of communities educating the public and elected officials about our core platform: guaranteed health care for all, fair enforceable trade agreements, and economic policies that create good jobs at living wages.

By being on the ground early, WFW has been able to bring about real community empowerment that goes beyond elections. WFW participants contribute to (continued on page 3) voters feeling as if nothing has been accomplished, it leaves your loyal base questioning whether our faith in your leadership is misplaced.” Despite harsh criticism from ADA, its members, and other anti-war activists, this Congress approved more than $137 billion in additional war funding and passed no legislation drawing down troops (see voting record).

Congressional Democrats did put up a strong fight on a number of issues this session even when the numbers were not on their side. “They fought hard to deliver additional health care to needy kids, making it a chief legislative priority this year. Sadly, we could not overcome the President’s veto of SCHIP,” said Isaacs. SCHIP, the federal State Children’s Health Insurance Program, based on a state program developed by ADA Executive Committee Chair Allen Kukovich during his tenure in the Pennsylvania state legislature, provides health care to about 6 million children whose families cannot afford private care. Democrats wanted to increase the tobacco tax to pay for extending SCHIP to 4 million additional children. After failing twice to overturn President Bush’s vetoes, Democrats conceded that continuing the program as is would be the best to be expected from this session.

Republican

obstruction

When Congress adopted the Peru

notwithstanding, House Democrats were able to score several victories later in the session. A student loan reconciliation bill redirected $19 billion in lender subsidies to financial aid for colleges and students; $7.4 billion for Head Start programs was overwhelming approved; and, in a huge victory for ADA and labor allies, the House passed the Employee Free Choice Act, a bill that would make it much easier for employees to form unions. EFCA was later filibustered by Senate Republicans.

“The ups and downs of this session tell me what we need is to achieve a functioning majority and eliminate the veto threat. In other words, we need more liberals in Congress and one in the White House,” said Isaacs.

To that end, ADA is investing heavily in field outreach and grassroots mobilization plans exemplified by the Working Families Win project. WFW was successful in 2006, scoring victories in 9 of the 13 areas in which we operated, helping to restore a liberal majority to the House of Representatives and the Senate. “Our plan is to build on that success this year by employing the same strategy of education and mobilization in traditionally overlooked communities,” said Don Kusler, WFW Director. “Passing an increase in the minimum wage, something that directly impacted their town, showed WFW communities that, by working together, they have the power to change this country for the better. They want to do it again.”

Trade Agreement (vote number 17 in the Senate and 16 in the House), a NAFTA-style free trade bill that leaves out protections for the environment and will send more American jobs overseas, ADA activists and WFW communities were reminded of the importance of their work. “In 2004, we secured agreements from the Kerry campaign to include protections for workers and the environment in any future trade pacts. Had he become President, that Peru deal would have been dead on arrival,” said Kusler. The defeat also had a galvanizing effect because 8 of the candidates elected in WFW communities voted against the Peru deal, providing evidence that the project is working. Further, elected officials who have a record of bad votes on similar issues switched their position due to the education efforts of organizers and their volunteers. In order to stop future agreements and roll back NAFTA and its offspring, WFW organizers learned that more education is needed in a greater number of communities. The 2008 election will provide the opportunity to make trade and economic justice a key issue.

While the Working Families Win project, ADA chapters, and grassroots networks are educating and organizing around the country, the national office is laying the groundwork in Washington, DC by working with Members of the Congressional Progressive Caucus and other Congressional allies on a number of policy alternatives, including a progressive budget. “We want to be ready with legislation so that liberals can return to Congress with a roadmap that will lead us out of the mess George W. Bush created,” said Isaacs.

WORKING FAMILIES ARE WINNING

the debate in their own communities by talking to their neighbors about the issues, participating in public issue and candidate forums, by regularly taking their concerns to elected officials to hold them accountable, and by organizing for the future.

Training neighbors to engage neighbors in thoughtful conversation about important issues that affect their whole community is just the start. Long-term investment in communities traditionally overlooked is the key to building lasting change. ADA's Working Families Win project is doing just that, working year round, not just in election years, to build a movement.

WFW strides into 2008, ready to seize the moment for working families. In addition to our ongoing work in Pennsylvania, New Hampshire, Iowa, Wisconsin, and North Carolina, ADA will be expanding the program. We are currently narrowing down our list of target communities and working to secure the resources necessary to send more organizers into the field to begin the work of educating and empowering working families.

However, we need your help and support. If you are in a WFW project area, reach out to our organizers there and lend a hand to the effort. If you are not, help this project grow with a contribution to ADA so that we can bring this successful program to more communities. Visit www.workingfamilieswin.org for more information on the project and for local contact information and visit www.adaction.org to make a contribution to our work.

Don Kusler is the Project Director for Working Families Win

Chris Schwartz is organizing for WFW in Iowa. Chris returned to WFW in mid-January after organizing for Iowans for Sensible Priorities in 2007 and already has made an impact by getting our message into the media, pushing Congressional candidates to speak responsibly about issues, and has scheduled numerous house meetings and speaking engagements. He is implementing an aggressive education and empowerment program that covers a large portion of the state.

Jaime Contois is gearing up for 2008 in New Hampshire with house meetings and public events on trade and health care. She recently wrapped up a year's worth of excellent bird-dogging work for the presidential primary by educating thousands of primary voters about the positions that candidates have taken on our core issues.

Becky Gomer is working for the ADA Education Fund in south central North Carolina. She is fighting hard to strengthen progressive voices in the region, working on our core economic issues at the local level.

Will Altizer is working for the ADA Education Fund in southeastern Wisconsin. Will and the WFW supporters have successfully organized around health care issues and educated their local Congressman about the need for children's health care. Will is currently working with allies in the area and around the state to finalize plans for 2008.

Adam Warpinski is organizing northeastern Wisconsin for WFW. He has been very active on health care, helping professors in their organizing campaign, getting an issue canvass set up, and working to establish an ADA chapter in the area.

Phila Back is busy working to raise the health care issue in southeastern Pennsylvania. She has held numerous issue and candidate forums, SiCKO showings, and has worked to enhance WFW coalitional efforts. Phila has also organized a state fair trade coalition made up of labor, faith, and environmental groups through a partnership with the Citizens Trade Campaign. While Phila continues her work on trade and health care, she also is working to boost Latino participation in the political process in the region.

NEW LEADERS FOR DEMOCRATIC ACTION: WE ARE PRESENT

by Shannon Macken

It's not hard to ignore us. We have jobs, social lives, and classes to take care of; we're busy people, involved in everything but politics. The conventional wisdom is that we aren't concerned with voting or government, so those who depend on votes and the people who govern turn their attention elsewhere. After all, it's been more than thirty years since we've been eligible to vote, and we've hardly been swinging our weight around. Attitudes are changing, though – the current batch of 18 to 29-year-olds is getting involved in civic activity, and our support is critical to Democratic electoral success.

In 2004, we reversed the decreasing voter turn-out trend that had plagued our demographic since the '70s. In 2006, we trumped the turn-out of 2002, and in the primaries and caucuses of 2008, our presence has nearly doubled in some states. The world of the average twenty-something is less stable than it was twenty years ago; whether it's the war in Iraq or college costs or, most pressing at the moment, the economy; something has spurred us to act. We understand that the polar ice caps are melting, that we may not have a salary larger than our parents', that we will inherit the war and its aftermath. The last eight years have proven to us that our country is not infallible. After two terms of a botched presidency, we're ready to help find the new direction that many are seeking.

And so far, so good – in 2004, 54% of our votes went to the Democratic nominee, and in 2006, 60% of our ballots went to Democratic candidates. There's a more-than-likely chance we'll vote Democrat again, but that may be because we don't see another option. We're reaching for an alternative, not necessarily the exact ideals of the left. People under 30 are the most likely of any age group to identify as independent, and according to Young Voter Strategies, many of us don't form solid party affiliations until we're older. The good news is that 46% of 18 to 29 year-olds said the Democratic Party understands its needs best, according to a New York Times poll from late January, while only 33% could say the same about Republicans. There's still plenty of time to make an impression, to prove that Democrats are more than non-Republicans.

You have us, now keep us. We're looking for change, something that we can be a part of. We're an active bunch; the director of Pennsylvania's League of Young Voters noted that the politicians who are most successful with getting our support are the ones who engage us to lead our own efforts. Students for Obama began as a college student's appeal to Senator Obama on the Facebook network, a website hosting a collection of people's descriptive profiles that allows friends to interact with each other. Meredith Segal, a junior at Bowdoin College, created a group asking the Senator to run for President, a group that friends and strangers alike joined as the word spread virally from profile to profile. Now the organization is a force turning out youth nationwide, with tens of thousands signing up. Members are managing organizations at their own colleges and setting up rallies for Obama. Youth interested in Republican candidate Ron Paul have organized similarly, setting up information booths about his agenda at campuses across the country. In a single day in December, they raised six million dollars online for his campaign. Howard Dean spread his message through grassroots internet tactics in 2004, creating a solid base of young supporters to sustain his run for the Presidency. The internet has changed the way we interact with politicians; activism is starting from the roots up, rather than being passed down from a campaign.

We're a group that likes to be involved, but on our own terms. We use MySpace, Facebook, YouTube and old-fashioned face-to-face contact to engage in issues we've come to care about. These online social and media networks are part of our everyday lives, and if you want our attention, you should try to connect with us using our means of choice. Reach us on our turf, supply us with a brand that addresses the problems we see, and watch us get involved. We want the same things – universal health care, an end to the war, fair trade, the ability to have a job and not struggle to make ends meet. The maxim that youth are the future misses the truth; we are the present too, and ADA's New Leaders for Democratic Action is bringing a new and necessary perspective that will let ADA remain relevant in our changing world.

2007 VOTING RECORD PREFACE

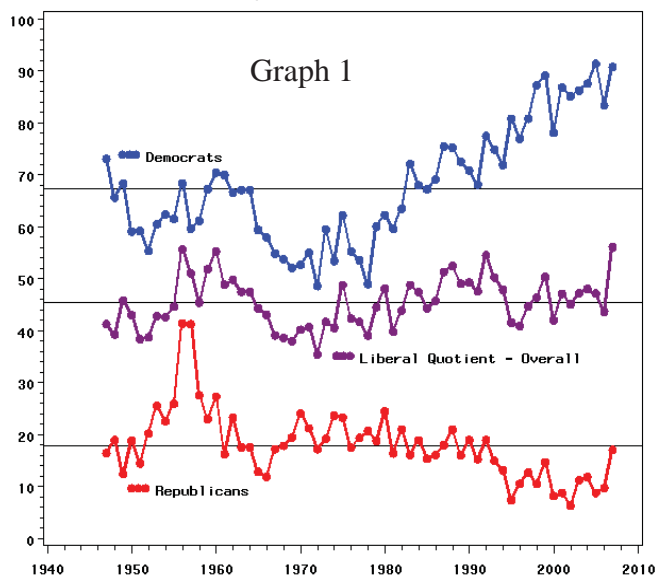

by Christine Riddiough and David Card

The Liberal Quotient (LQ) is the rating of a Member of Congress as determined by the percentage of votes cast in support of liberal policies, measured against the number of votes counted (20).

both chambers was 56%, a more than 10 point jump. House Democrats achieved an admirable 92% with Senate Democrats dropping slightly to 87% from their 2006 score of 89%. House Democrats greatly improved their 2006 score of 83.4%.

had Working Families Win organizers. The lack of “Senate Heroes” is due largely to the Peru Trade Agreement, a NAFTA-style free trade pact which ADA vigorously opposed but many traditional Senate allies supported. Senate zeroes fell from 18 to 3 as conservatives scrambled to preserve their seats in the next election by supporting popular bills such as the increase to the minimum wage and overriding President Bush’s veto of funds for water resource development.

Liberal Quotient 1947-2007

One reason for the overall improvement of the Congress was a sharp move toward moderation by the Republican Caucus in both chambers. House Republicans’ overall LQ improved from a 2006 score of 10% to 16%; the Senate reached 20% after an abysmal 2006 rating of just 9%.

“The issue for Republicans this session was job protection. Not yours’ or mine - but theirs’,” said Darryl Fagin, ADA Legislative Director.

“Republicans were crushed in the last election because they had moved so far out of the mainstream. They do not want to lose again.”

This continues the overall move to common-sense liberal goals of the Congress since the late 1970’s. Graph 1 represents the average LQ for Democrats and Republicans in both chambers and the average of the Congress as a whole. It is clear that, after a low point in the later 1960’s and early 1970’s, the overall trend is more liberal. The only period to see a steady decline was the early 1990’s, coinciding with the Republican takeover and the elevation of Newt Gingrich to House Speaker.

For example, Senator Edward Kennedy (D-MA) voted with the liberal position in 17 of the 20 selected votes, so his LQ is 85%.

The votes selected cover a full spectrum of domestic, foreign, economic, military, environmental and social issues. We try to select votes which display sharp liberal/conservative contrasts. An effort is made to choose procedural votes: amendments, motions to table, or votes on rules for debate. These votes can reveal true attitudes obscured in the final votes.

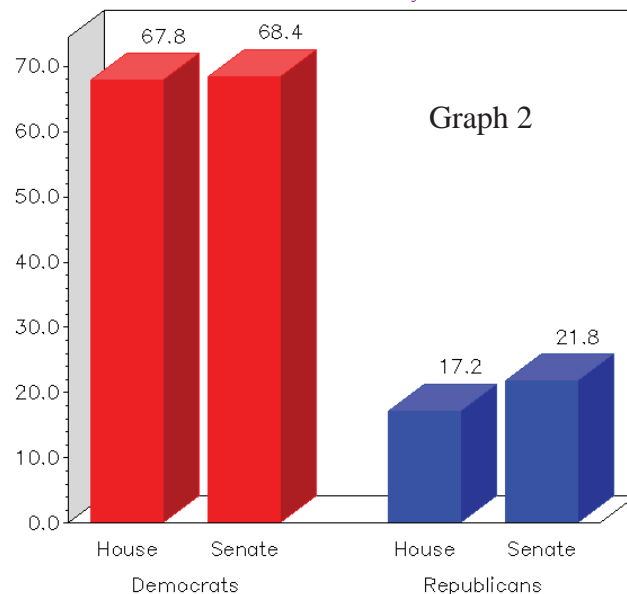

The shift also is evidenced in the increased number of perfect scores. The House had 53 Members scoring 100%, up from 31 last year. Additionally, there were 20 fewer zeroes in the House in 2007 compared to 2006. The Senate had only 3 perfect scores, two of whom, Senators Casey and Klobuchar, were elected in 2006 in states where ADA

The first session of the 110th Congress was the most liberal since ADA began collecting data – a startling fact considering how disappointed many are with the record of actual achievement – underscoring just how much of a roadblock the right wing has been.

The overall liberal quotient (LQ) for February 2008

Liberal Quotient by Chamber

same period of time as Democrats in both chambers have scored more liberal and Republicans more conservative (see graph 1). The ratings of the two major parties grew closer in the 1950s and 1960s but by the end of the 1970s started moving apart. The scores have never been farther apart than they have been over the last 7 years.

Graph 2 suggests that both Democrats and Republicans in the Senate are slightly more liberal than their respective parties in the House. And that Democrats overall are more liberal by a wide margin than the GOP. Graph 2 is an average of the full 61 years.

This voting record is offered only as a guide in judging the legislative performance of Members of Congress, and has several inherent limitations. It is no measure of a legislator's work in committee. It does not reflect the responsibility. These judgments cannot be expressed in percentages.

A final caveat: The methodology of the ADA Voting Record calls for Members who miss a vote, for whatever reason, to be penalized in their final score. Therefore, a Member who agreed with ADA's position on 19 votes but was absent on the 20th would receive a score of 95%. Due to the upcoming presidential election, Senators such as Clinton, Obama and McCain all missed a substantial number of votes, thus their final score will be lower than normal – at least in the case of Senators Clinton, Obama, failure of Congress to deal with major issues, or the individual's degree of Dodd and Biden.

HOUSE VOTE DESCRIPTIONS

1. HR 2. Minimum Wage Increase Passage of a bill to increase the federal minimum wage by $2.10 over two years from $5.15 to $7.25 an hour. Sixty days after enactment, the minimum wage would be $5.85 an hour, a year later, $6.55 an hour, and the next year, $7.25 an hour. A federal minimum wage of $3.55 an hour would be extended to the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands 60 days after enactment, rising in 50-cent increments every six months until it reaches $7.25 per hour. Thus the Marianas would no longer be a sweat-shop haven for "Made in USA" goods. Passed 315-116. Jan. 10, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

2. HR 4. Medicare Prescription Drug Price Negotiation Passage of a bill requiring the Health and Human Services (HHS) Department to negotiate prices with drug companies for drugs covered under Medicare Part D. The bill would not authorize HHS to establish or require a particular formulary. Passed 255-170. Jan. 12, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

3. HR 800. Employee Free Choice Act (EFCA) Passage of a bill that would allow pro-union employees to bypass NLRB elections and require an employer to bargain with a union if a majority of eligible employees sign a petition in support of the union. It would establish timetables for mediation and arbitration when an employer and union are unable to agree on their first contract. If an employee is illegally fired or discriminated against during an organizational or first contract drive, the employers would be required to pay three times the amount of back pay due the employee. Passed 241-185. March 1, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

4. H Con Res 99. Fiscal 2008 Budget Resolution Adoption of a resolution allowing $503.8 billion for defense discretionary spending, $451.1 billion non-defense discretionary spending, plus $145.2 billion for operations in Iraq and Afghanistan. Of the domestic spending authority, $82.3 billion would be for education, training, employment and social services programs, $54.2 billion for health programs, and $44.7 billion for federal judicial and law enforcement activities. The resolution would call for $1.8 trillion in mandatory spending outlays in fiscal 2008 and create 12 reserve funds, each with a specific purpose, to allow for increases in spending or changes in tax policy, provided the increase is offset. It would assume mandatory spending cuts of $75 million between fiscal 2007 and 2012 would be specified by the Education and Labor Committee. Adopted 216-210. March 29, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

5. HR 1905. District of Columbia Voting Rights Passage of a bill to increase permanently the membership of the House of Representatives to 437 by granting a seat to the District of Columbia and an additional seat to Utah. The new members would be chosen in special elections. The bill also would add one seat to the Electoral College for Utah, for a total of 539 votes. A "non-severability clause" provides that, if any provision of the bill is invalidated by a court, the entire bill would be invalid. Passed 241-177. April 19, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

6. HR 1429. Head Start Reauthorization Passage of a bill to authorize $7.4 billion in fiscal 2008 and such sums as necessary from fiscal 2009 through 2012 for the Head Start program, to require that at least 50 percent of Head Start teachers have a bachelor's degree by 2013, and add measures to identify high quality comprehensive early childhood programs. The bill would permit Head Start programs to enroll children from families with incomes up to 130 percent of poverty where a community need is demonstrated. Passed 365-48. May 2, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

7. HR 2237. Iraq Troop Withdrawal Passage of a bill to require the Defense Department to begin withdrawing all U.S. troops and contractors from Iraq within 90 days of the bill's enactment, withdrawal to be completed within 180 days. The bill would prohibit any Defense Department funds from being used to increase the number of U.S. troops serving in Iraq in excess of the number serving there on Jan. 1, 2007, unless the increase has been specifically authorized in advance by Congress. Rejected 171-255. May 10, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

8. HR 2206. Fiscal 2007 War Supplemental Appropriation Passage of a bill providing $42.8 billion in fiscal 2007 in emergency spending for military operations in Iraq and Afghanistan. An additional $52.8 billion would be withheld until the President reports by July 13 on the Iraqi government's progress toward meeting specified benchmarks and goals and Congress has adopted a joint resolution releasing the funds. The bill would also provide $6.8 billion for hurricane recovery and relief, $3.3 billion for military health care costs, and $2.25 billion for homeland security anti-terrorism programs. It also would raise the minimum wage to $7.25 per hour over two years and provide $4.8 billion in small-business tax incentives. Passed 221-205. May 10, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

9. S 5. Stem Cell Research Passage of a bill to allow federal funds to be used for research on embryonic stem cell lines derived from surplus embryos at in vitro fertilization clinics if donors give their consent and they are not paid for the embryos. Passed 247-176 (thus clearing the bill for the President). June 7, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

10. HR 2669. Student Loans Reconciliation Passage of a bill to cut nearly $19 billion from subsidies to federal student loan lender, redirecting most of those funds to financial aid for students, colleges, and universities. The bill would reduce lenders' special allowance payments and insurance rates and eliminate a lender "exceptional performer" incentive program. It would reduce the share of collection fees kept by student loan guarantee agencies and increase origination fees that lenders are charged for new loans. Over five years, the maximum Pell Grant would rise to $5,200, interest rates on subsidized student loans would be cut in half to 3.4 percent, and the aggregate federally-backed loan limit would be raised to $30,500 for undergraduate and $65,000 for graduate students. Passed 273-149. July 11, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

11. HR 2956. Iraq Troop Redeployment Passage of a bill requiring the Secretary of Defense to begin redeploying U.S. troops and contractors out of Iraq within 120 days of the bill's enactment, to be completed by April 1, 2008, except for a "limited presence." No later than Jan. 1, 2008, the President would be required to transmit to Congress a comprehensive U.S. strategy justifying the minimum force levels required to protect U.S. national security interests in Iraq after April 1, 2008, a description of our forces' specific missions, the cost of maintaining that force, and the expected duration of the missions. Passed 223-201. July 12, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

12. HR 2831. Wage Discrimination Passage of a bill responding to the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Ledbetter v. Goodyear Tire Company, which said that charges of wage discrimination must be filed within 180 days of the initial discriminatory act, regardless of whether the employee had any idea that he or she was being discriminated against. The bill would amend the 1964 Civil Rights Act to allow employees to file charges of pay discrimination within 180 days of their receipt of a paycheck affected by the alleged discriminatory decision. The bill would also clarify that an employee is entitled to up to two years of back-pay if it is determined that discrimination occurred. Passed 225-199. July 31, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

13. HR 3356. Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (FISA) Overhaul Conyers (D-MI) motion to suspend the rules and pass a bill to allow the FISA court established under the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act to issue orders to allow surveillance of communications of suspected terrorists who are overseas, even if they are communicating with U.S. residents, but only if the court determines that the suspects are "reasonably believed" to be overseas. The Attorney General would be required to swear that surveillance conducted under those orders met some requirements intended to protect the rights of individuals within the United States. (A two-thirds majority of those present and voting -- 284 in this case -- is required for passage under suspension of the rules.) Motion rejected 218-207. Aug. 3, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

14. HR 3963. SCHIP Passage of a bill to reauthorize the State Children's Health Insurance Program (SCHIP) at nearly $60 billion over five years, expanding the program by $35 billion. To pay for the cost of this expansion, the bill would increase the federal tax on cigarettes by 61 cents to $1 per pack and raise taxes on other tobacco products. Program eligibility would be limited to families earning up to three times the federal poverty level. It would require the Social Security Administration to verify the citizenship of all applicants and require states to phase out coverage of childless adults by the end of 2008. Passed 265-142. Oct. 25, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

15. HR 3685. Employee Non-Discrimination Passage of a bill that would prohibit employers, employment agencies, labor organizations, and joint labor-management committees from intentionally discriminating on the basis of an individual's actual or perceived sexual orientation. It would define sexual orientation as heterosexuality, homosexuality or bisexuality. It also would be unlawful to "limit, segregate or classify" workers or applicants in any way that would affect their work status. The bill specified that religious organizations would be exempt, and the federal definition of marriage as being between a man and woman would not be altered. Passed 235-184. Nov. 7, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

16. HR 3688. U.S.-Peru Trade Agreement Passage of a bill to implement a NAFTA/CAFTA model trade agreement between the United States and Peru. The agreement would reduce most current tariffs and duties between the two countries, increase protections for intellectual property and would require Peru to take steps to strengthen its labor- and environmental-enforcement standards. Passed 285-132. Nov. 8, 2007. A no vote is a +.

17. HR 3996. AMT Adjustment Passage of a bill providing a one-year adjustment to the alternative minimum tax (AMT) on 2007 income, exempting an additional 21 million taxpayers from paying the tax. It would extend several expiring tax provisions for one year, expand eligibility for the refundable child tax credit in 2008 by setting the threshold for the credit at $8,500. To offset the cost of the measure, the bill would require private equity managers, venture capitalists, and some real estate investors to be taxed at the regular personal income tax rate of up to 35%, rather than the current 15% rate for capital gains. Passed 216-193. Nov. 9, 2007. A yes vote is a +. (It became Public Law 110-166 on Dec. 26, 2007, without the "carried interest" provision, which the Senate did not approve.)

18. HR 3043. Fiscal 2008 Labor-HHS-Education Appropriations Passage, over President Bush's Nov. 13, 2007, veto, of a bill appropriating $150.7 billion in fiscal 2008 for the departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education and related agencies. It would provide $63.6 billion for the Education Department, including $14.5 billion for Pell Grants; $15 billion for the Labor Department, including $3.6 billion for training and employment services; and $30 billion for the National Institutes of Health. (A two-thirds majority of those present and voting -- 279 in this case -- of both chambers is required to override a veto.) Rejected 277-141. Nov. 15, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

19. HR 2082. Fiscal 2008 Intelligence Authorization Adoption of the conference report on a bill that would authorize classified (unspecified) amounts to be spent in fiscal 2008 for 17 U.S. intelligence activities and agencies, including the CIA, the Office of the National Intelligence Director and the National Security Agency, including the intelligence portion of the emergency supplemental funds for the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. It would prohibit the use of any interrogation treatment not authorized by the U.S. Army Field Manual against any individual in the custody of the intelligence community. It would also authorize increased investment in U.S. human intelligence activities, including training, infrastructure and global capabilities. Adopted (thus sent to the Senate) 222-199. December 13, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

20. HR 6. Energy Policy Dingell (D-MI) motion to concur in a Senate amendment to a bill that would require new Corporate Average Fuel Economy (CAFE) standards of 35 miles per gallon for cars and light trucks, require 36 billion gallons of biofuels to be used by 2022, and direct the Energy Department to set new energy efficiency standards. A $2.1 billion tax package would cover the cost of the new CAFE standards. Motion agreed to (thus clearing the bill for the President) 314-100. Dec. 18, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

What if the Americans for Democratic Action Education Fund earned a penny every time you searched the Internet?
Well, we can.

GoodSearch.com is a new search engine that donates half its revenue, about a penny per search, to the charities its users designate. You use it just as you would any search engine, and it's powered by Yahoo!, so you get great results.

Just go to www.goodsearch.com and be sure to enter Americans for Democratic Action Education Fund as the charity you want to support. And, be sure to spread the word!

SENATE VOTE DESCRIPTIONS

1. S 1. Ethics and Lobbying Overhaul -- Grass-Roots Lobbying Bennett (R-UT) amendment to Reid (D-NV) ethics reform legislation. Reid's legislation would overhaul Congressional lobbying and ethics rules for Senators and their staffs, restrict use of more broadly defined earmarks, prohibit Senators and staff from accepting gifts and free meals, extend the period before former Senators can become lobbyists, prohibit lobbyist-funded travel, and require trips funded by private entities to be vetted by the Select Ethics Committee. The Bennett amendment, permitting the travel of Members of Congress hosted by 501 (c) (3), or "grass-roots lobbying" organizations, was adopted 51-46. Jan. 17, 2007. A no vote is a +.

2. HR 2. Minimum Wage Increase Motion to invoke cloture (thus limiting debate) on a Baucus (D-MT) substitute amendment to raise the minimum wage to $7.25 per hour over two years and provide $8.3 billion in small-business tax incentives. The tax provisions would be offset with revenue increases, including a $1 million cap on the amount of executive compensation that can be tax-deferred in any year and extend certain restrictions on certain sale-in-lease-out deals. (Three-fifths of the total Senate, 60 votes, is required to invoke cloture.) Motion agreed to 87-10. Jan 30, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

3. S 574. Iraq War "Surge" Motion to invoke cloture and proceed to a bill that would express the sense of Congress in support of U.S. military serving in Iraq, while disapproving of President Bush's "surge" decision to deploy more than 20,000 additional U.S. combat troops to that country and requiring the President to submit a report to Congress every 30 days on military progress in Iraq. Motion rejected 56-34. Feb. 17, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

4. S J Res 9. Iraq Mission Passage of a joint resolution to limit the mission of U.S. forces in Iraq, within 120 days of enactment, to counter-terrorism efforts, training Iraqi forces and protecting U.S. assets. It would set a binding goal of withdrawing most combat troops by March 31, 2008. (By unanimous consent, the Senate agreed to require 60 votes to pass the joint resolution.)

Rejected 48-50. March 15, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

5. S 3. Medicare Prescription Drug Price Negotiation Motion to invoke cloture and proceed to a bill allowing the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate the prices drug companies charge under the Medicare Part D prescription drug program. Motion rejected 55-42. April 18, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

6. HR 1495. Water Resources Development Act Reauthorization -- Climate Change Kerry (D-MA) amendment to Boxer (D-CA) legislation authorizing about $14 billion for Army Corps of Engineers water resources development projects, including initiatives for storm protection in Louisiana, flood control, and ecosystem restoration. The Kerry amendment would require the Army Corps of Engineers to include the impact on global climate change in any relevant study of water resource projects. (By unanimous consent, the Senate agreed to require 60 votes to adopt the amendment.) Rejected 51-42. May 15, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

7. S 1348. Immigration Overhaul Motion to invoke cloture on Kennedy (D-MA) legislation to overhaul U.S. immigration policies and institute new border security measures, including an electronic verification system. It would allocate some green cards on a "merit-based" system based on certain criteria, including a high-demand occupation, proficiency in English, and higher education degrees. Half of the green cards would be allocated based on family relations. It also would provide for a temporary guest worker program that would allow workers to remain in the United States for up to six years, provided that they return to their home country for a year after every two years they remain in the United States. A "yea" was a vote in support of Kennedy's and the President's position. Motion rejected 45-50. June 7, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

8. HR 800. EFCA Motion to invoke cloture on the Reid (D-NV) motion to proceed to a bill that would allow union organizers to bypass an NLRB-sponsored election if a majority of eligible employees sign a petition in support of a union. Motion rejected 51-48. June 26, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

9. HR 1585. Fiscal 2008 Defense Authorization Motion to invoke cloture on a Levin (D-MI) amendment mandating a drawdown and redeployment of U.S. forces in Iraq by the end of April 2008, except to protect U.S. personnel, train Iraqi security forces, and conduct counter terrorism operations against al Qaeda and other international terrorist organizations. Redeployment would begin within 120 days of enactment. The bill would authorize $648.3 billion for defense programs in fiscal 2008, including $127.5 billion for the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. It also would authorize $143.5 billion for operations and maintenance; $109.9 billion for procurement; $122.9 billion for military personnel, and $74.7 billion for research, development, testing and evaluation. Motion rejected 52-47. July 18, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

10. S 2011. FISA. Passage of a bill to amend the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act of 1978 (FISA) to expand the authority of the Attorney General and the Director of National Intelligence to conduct surveillance of communication between one suspected foreign terrorist and another without a court warrant. Communications companies would be compelled to comply with the government's conduct of such surveillance. Within 10 days of initiating the electronic surveillance, the Administration would be required to describe to the FISA court the procedures they used to determine whether the intelligence acquisition being conducted without a warrant is directed at foreign targets overseas. The FISA court would then rule on the procedures. The bill would sunset after six months. (By unanimous consent, the Senate agreed to require 60 votes to pass the bill.) Rejected 43-45. Aug. 3, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

11. S 1257. District of Columbia Voting Rights Motion to invoke cloture on a Reid (D-NV) motion to proceed to a bill to increase the membership of the House of Representatives to 437, by granting a seat to the District of Columbia and an additional seat to Utah. Motion rejected 57-42. Sept. 19, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

12. HR 1585. Fiscal 2008 Defense Authorization Motion to invoke cloture on the Kennedy (D-MA) amendment to Levin (D-MI) legislation (see vote No. 9, above). The Kennedy amendment would make violent crimes that cause bodily harm based on the victim's race, color, religion or national origin punishable by a fine and up to 10 years in prison, and punishable by a life sentence if the victim dies, is kidnapped or subjected to aggravated sexual abuse. It also would create the same penalties for crimes motivated by gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, or disability. (Subsequently, the Kennedy amendment was adopted by voice vote.) Motion agreed to 60-39. Sept. 2007. A yes vote is a +.

13. HR 976. SCHIP Motion to invoke cloture on the Reid (D-NV) motion to agree to the House bill reauthorizing the State Children's Health Insurance Program (SCHIP) at nearly $60 billion over five years, expanding the program by $35 billion. To offset the cost of the expansion, the bill would increase the tax on cigarettes by 61 cents to $1 per pack and raise taxes on other tobacco products. Motion agreed to 69-30. Sept. 27, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

14. HR 3043. Fiscal 2008 Labor-HHS-Education Appropriations – Limiting Abortion Funding Vitter (R-LA) amendment to Harkin (D-IA) legislation. The Vitter amendment would prohibit the distribution of Title X family planning funds to abortion providers except when a woman suffers from a physical disorder, injury, or illness that would risk the life of the mother unless an abortion is provided. The amendment would not apply to hospitals. Harkin's legislation would appropriate $605.5 billion in fiscal 2008, including $149.9 billion in discretionary spending, for the departments of Labor, Health and Human Services (HHS), and Education, and for related agencies. It would provide $63 billion for the Education Department, $14.9 billion for the Labor Department and $479.1 billion for HHS. Rejected 41-52. Oct. 18, 2007. A no vote is a +.

15. Southwick Nomination. Motion to invoke cloture on the nomination of Leslie Southwick of Mississippi to be a judge for the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals. Opponents argued that, in his positions related to African Americans, workers, gays, and women, Mr. Southwick was unsuited to a lifetime appointment to the federal judiciary. Motion agreed to 62-35. Oct. 24, 2007. A no vote is a +.

16. HR 1495. Water Resources Development -- Veto Override Passage, over President Bush's Nov. 2, 2007, veto, of a bill authorizing $23.2 billion for more than 900 water resource development projects and studies by the Army Corps of Engineers for flood control, navigation, beach erosion control, and environmental restoration. The bill would require independent peer review for certain projects that exceed $40 million. It would authorize $3.9 billion for a system of new locks and dams and environmental restoration for the Upper Mississippi River and Illinois waterway system. It also would authorize hurricane recovery activities along the Gulf Coast. (A two-thirds majority of those present and voting of both chambers -- 62 senators in this instance -- is required to override a veto.) Passed, thus enacted into law, 79-14. Nov. 8, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

17. HR 3688. U.S.-Peru Trade Agreement Passage of a bill that would implement a NAFTA/CAFTA model trade agreement between the United States and Peru. The agreement would reduce most tariffs and duties currently affecting trade between the two countries, increase protections for intellectual property and would require Peru to take steps to strengthen its labor- and environmental-enforcement standards. Passed, thus cleared for the President, 77-18. Dec. 4, 2007. A no vote is a +.

18. HR 3996. AMT Adjustment Motion to invoke cloture on a Reid (D-NV) motion to proceed to the bill that would provide a one-year adjustment to the alternative minimum tax (AMT) on 2007 income, exempt an additional 21 million taxpayers from paying the AMT, extend several expiring tax provisions for one year, and expand eligibility in 2008 for the refundable child tax credit. To offset the cost, the bill includes revenue raisers, such as increasing the tax on the carried interest of private equity managers, venture capitalists and some real estate investors. Motion rejected

46-48. Dec. 6, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

19. HR 6. Energy Policy Motion to invoke cloture on the Reid (D-NV) motion to concur in the House bill with an additional amendment to require new Corporate Average Fuel Economy standards of 35 miles per gallon for cars and light trucks, and require the production and use of 36 billion gallons of biofuels by 2022. It would direct the Energy Department to set new energy efficiency standards. The additional amendment would strike a provision requiring utilities to produce 15 percent of their electricity from alternative sources by 2020. It also would increase to $21.8 billion a package of tax incentives that would be offset in part by eliminating or reducing $13 billion in subsidies for major oil and gas companies. Motion rejected 59-40. Dec. 13, 2007. A yes vote is a +.

20. HR 2419. Farm Bill Reauthorization Passage of a bill to authorize $286 billion from fiscal 2008 through fiscal 2012 for federal farm, nutrition assistance, rural development, and agricultural trade programs. Producers would not be eligible if the average of their three-year adjusted gross income is more than $1 million in 2009, and more than $750,000 in 2010 and subsequent years, unless at least two-thirds of that income is derived from agriculture. The bill also would limit the amount that farms could receive during any crop year under specific programs to $40,000 for direct and fixed payments, and $60,000 for counter-cyclical and average crop revenue payments. It would create a new optional subsidy called the Average Crop Revenue program, which would tie payments to state-based farm revenue figures. Country-of-origin labels for all meat would be required by September 2008. The bill would extend the Milk Income Loss Contract program through fiscal 2012. It would increase, from $134 to $140 per month, the amount households could deduct from gross income in determining their level of food stamp benefits. It also would authorize $1.1 billion to promote farm-based renewable energy and efficiency. (Before passage, the Senate adopted a Harkin (D-IA) substitute amendment by voice vote.) Passed 79-14. Dec. 14, 2007. A yes vote is a +.
